Announcement of Business Alliance Agreement with DOJIN GROUP Co, Ltd. for business development in regenerative medicine and healthcare area

Tokyo, February 14, 2020 – Gene Techno Science Co., Ltd. (“GTS”) signed a business alliance agreement with DOJIN GROUP Co., Ltd (“DOJIN”) for business development in regenerative medicine and healthcare area.

1. Purpose of this agreement

DOJIN promotes businesses in the sales of pharmaceuticals, medical devices, research reagents, and also culture and storage of cells using regenerative medicine technology with the broad network in Japan and overseas. GTS is actively engaged in research and development activities for the clinical applications in collaboration with research institutes and partner companies by the use of stem cells from exfoliated deciduous teeth (“SHED”) collected from associated dental clinics.

Both companies agreed that the development of a new business combining the business base of DOJIN and our SHED platform would enhance the enterprise value, and then, made this agreement by concluding that it is best to establish more solid partnership. Specifically, we will examine the business development for clinical application of SHED utilizing resources and distribution networks in a wide range of fields such as pharmaceuticals, medical equipment, reagents, etc., which the DOJIN has established till today. GTS will continue to discuss to strengthen our cooperation, work to further expand our business, and advance our new biotech business to accelerate the enhancement of our enterprise value, with the aim of realizing GTS 3.0 as soon as possible.
